from the Washingtons, but Are Still Seven Points Behind the Bostons-New Yorks perest the Philadelphias - Other News. The Bostons are still ahead in the final sport for the League pennant. They played magnificent ball and won from the Brooklyns yesterday, and those who saw the visitors' speed went home confident that they are the coming champions. The Baltimores also won, the Washingtons losing to them after a hard fight. The New Yorks outclassed the Philadelphias. The

NEW YORK, 7; PHILADELPHIA, 1. It didn't take very long for the 500 spectators ho saw the game at the Polo grounds yesterday to reason out why the Philadelphias are fighting it out with the tallenders in the League race. The visiting players' fielding was erratic. Taylor deserved to win his game, although he did help the home team along with three wild pitches. Shugart was a star player in one inning, and in the next it generally happened that he would slip up on some easy play. But he wasn't the only offender.

Nash in the first inning failed to hold Gleason's bounder, and before the next man was retired two runs had been scored. Nash retired to the bench after the inning was over and was to the bench after the inning was over and was replaced by Geler, whose poor judgment in the second inning gave to the New Yorks three more runs. After two men were out and Van Haltren was on first base Wilmot hit a grounder, which Shugart was waiting to grab, but Geier tried to pull in the sphere and the hall rolled to the outfield. Then Davis hit a vicious liner to left for three bases and Gleason singled.

Two more runs were scored by Joyce's men in the seventh on two hits, Shugart's fumble and a force. Clements saved the Philadelphias by a home run drive into the right field bleacheries in the seventh inning.

Rusic pulled out of several tight holes, especially in the fifth inning. Two doubles and a single, all long drives, were made by the visitors, but Geier was caught napping at second, while Dord was an easy victim on strikes after the real was caught happing at second, while Dord was an easy victim on strikes after there hall and one at with hole here called

More runs were in sight after Clementa's drive in the seventh, but a double play by Gleason, Davis, and Clark ended the inning. As the game was practically won, Russe was taken out of the box at the close of the seventh inning. Seymour merely played with the Quakers, striking out five men in the last two innings. The score:

BOSTON, 12: BROOKLYN, 4. BOSTON, 12: BROOKLYN, 4.

For six innings the battle between the Bostons and Brooklyns at Eastern Park yesterday was fought so desperately that intense excitement prevailed. Pitcher kennedy, after a rest of two weeks, took a shy at the proud Beaneaters, and he worried them perceptibly until they got the hang of his delivery in the screntining, and batted him out of the box. The Bostons, barring one or two little blemishes, played magnificent ball. Their batting was a revelation and their fielding simply phenomenal. The most sensational stops, throws, and atches were made by every member of the nal. The most sensational stops, throws, and catches were made by every member of the team, barring Lewis, who had but one ball to handle, and made a mess of it. Lewis, however, pitched excellently, which offset a bit of stupid base running of which he was guilty when the Hub men were in the midst of a rally. The Brooklyns never worked harder to win a game, and also never played more raggedly in the field. But their errors had nothing to do with the victory, as Selec's men carned 8 of their 12 runs.

the victory, as Selec's men carned 8 of their 12 runs.

In Boston's first two innings Kennedy starred himself by catching bunted balls on the fly and doubling up a baserunner in each instance. In Brooklyn's first two innings two runs were scored—the first by Jones on four balls, a passed ball and steal, a wild throw by Hergen, and a scratch by Griffin; the second by Shoch on four balls, a sacrifice, and a wild throw by Lewis.

Tenney tied the score for Boston in the third when he shot a base hit to right and sent both Lewis and Hamilton home, they having previously singled. Griffin scored for Brooklyn in the last half on a hit, a wild pitch, and an out. Stahl tied the score again in the fourth by making an uninterrupted circuit of the bases on a two-bagger and wild throws by A. Smith and Shoch.

Shoch.

In the fifth Lewis lost his head and ran Bergen off second after both had singled. Bergen was put out and Hamilton doubled. Griffin caught Tenney's heavy drive to deep centre and Lewis scored. Duffy was third out, with the bases filled. In the last half kennedy fied the score on Collins's error, Jones's sacrifice, and Shindle's double, which was made after Duffy had literally picked Griffin's terrific smash off the left-field fence, Collins singled in the sixth and scored on Bergen's two-bagger, which gave the lead to the Beancaters, never to be lost. In the first half of the seventh the Bostons did some superb stick work. Tenney tripled, Lowe and Stahl singled, and Duffy sacrificed. Collins and Long also hit safely, and four carrad runs were hung up, enough to put the game out of danger.

The Brooklyns were blanked in the sixth, seventh, and eighth innings, chiefly because of wonderful plays by Long, Stahl, Duffy, Lowe, and Hamilton. Payne pitched during the eighth inning, and the visitors rolled up three more runs on one hit, a sacrifice, and four errors. About 500 Bostonians sat in the grand stand and cheered their team on. They carried small brooms, miniature beam pots, and wore long badges on their coats. The victors received cheers from 4.000 sympathetic cranks when Umpire Lynch called the game at the end of the eighth inning. The score!

FLYING DUTCHMAN FLEW

PAT DUNNE'S FOUR-YEAR-OLD WINS THE CULVER HANDICAP. Mastings Benten, Six Purlongs in 1:18 8-4-The Two-Year-Old Plaudit Lowers Ben Brush's Colors in a Phenomenal Race— Salabar, Nick, Pireside, and Ferget Victors.

The racing yesterday at Gravesend was decidedly sensational. As a starter Flying Dutch-man beat the great sprinter Hastings for the Culver Handleap, running the six furlongs in 1:13%, which is very fast time for the Gravesend course. The public was all agog over the splendld struggle in this race, in which a bianket would have covered Flying Dutchman, Hastings, Peat, and Octagon when the fourth event on the programme was called It was a special event at one mile and a sixteenth, and Ben Brush, the mightlest of the handleap brigade, was favorite at 4 to 1 on. Some additional interest was lent to the contest by the fact that the two-year-olds, Plaudit and Alice Farley, were going to be sent over a distance of ground for the first time. Ben Brush was considered a certain winner, and there was consternation in the ranks of the faithful when Plaudit sprang away in the lead and beat him home by a short neck in the phenomenal time of 1:471g. Dr. Catiett was third, only bead away.
With Cleophus, Nick, and Demagogue drawn, there were five starters for the Culver Handicap. Mr. Belmont was represented by Hastings and Octagon, with Taral up on the former and Hewitt on the three-year-old. This pair were favorites at 4 to 5, while Flying Dutchman was held at 310 to 1. Peat was quoted at 4 to 1. while the two-year-old Previous, who carried 109 pounds, was the outsider at 15 to 1. The field went away from the post with Flying unite the two-year-old Previous, who carried 109 pounds, was the outsider at 15 to 1. The field went away from the post with Flying Dutchman in front and Octagon last. The Dutchman was a wild horse, and Previous, who went out after him, was unable to head the big chestnut. Taral had a nice hold of Hastings's head in the run up the backstretch, and, in company with Prat, traited the leaders. All made play at the nead of the stretch, and for a moment it looked like anybody's race. Then Previous found the pace too much for him and dropped back beaten. It was hammer and tongs between the others, though, and the spectators were wildly enthusiastic as the quartet fought it out to the wire. Martin rode one of his best races on the Dutchman, and victory was his by a neck. Hastings beat Peat as far for second money, while Octagon was at the saddle of the Western gelding. It was a splendid performance for Hastings, who was conceding the winner eight pounds. Previous, with much the worst of the weights, was right at Octagon's tail, and there is no denying the fact that this son of Meddler is a colt of his class.

As has already been stated, the fourth race was considered a gift for Ben Brush, and there was little or no call for any of the others, although John Madden and a few of his friends beta few dollars on Plaudit at 40 and 50 to 1. Plaudit will be recalled as the half brother to Hastings, which was such a warm Western tip for this year's Futurity, and for which event he started the property of Ed Brown and John E. Madden. Plaudit was fourth for the Futurity, just outside of the money, and the son of Himyar was subsequently bought outright by Mr. Madden. He service and followed by Dr. Catlett. The pace was terrific, and half way up the backstretch Ben Brush and Challenger were under pressure. The first five and a half furiongs were covered in 55½ seconda and Allee Farley, fleet as she is, soon had enough of it and dropped back beat. Ben Brush, under Sim's strongest riding, closed a gap of two lengths on the upper tur Sims, who hugged the rail with Brush, was thus snabled to save many lengths of valuable Sims, who hugged the rail with Brush, was thus enabled to save many lengths of valuable ground. Coley Thompson is young, but he is artful, and while he was attending to the wants of Dr. Catlett he did not neglect to look about for Hen Brush. When he saw Sims so dangerously near, the little colored rider straightened Plaudit out in a twinkling and rode home for his life. He managed to heat the four-year-old a short neck, while Dr. Catlett was only beaten a head by the favorite. There was a sensation when the numbers and the time went up, and Hen Brush, while beaten, came in for a lot of praise. Morris Park he is going to be a hard nut to crack. Two-year-olds are troublesome customers for older horses at this season of the year, as they have a marked advantage in the weights. Tur history is studded with brilliant performances by two-year-olds in the autumn, Jimmy Rowe, Jimmy McCormick, Pat Dunne, and other trainers who had seen Plaudit's work, had some small wagers on the colt at 40 and 50 to 1.

Salabar looked like a good thing for the open-Salabar looked like a good thing for the open-ing dash at five furlongs, but the pencillers obligingly laid 11 to 5 about his chances. He humped away in the lead and was never headed. Dacian was second and Banished third. Thorpe was fined $50 for publing the filly Komurasaki up at the start. Fireside was the favorite for the second event for maidens at a mile. It was a very bad bunch, and the crazy filly Endeavor amused the crowd by her playful antics. Fire-side won hands down, with Anson L. secside won hands down, with Anson L sec-ond and La Fontera third. The selling race at six furlongs was easy for the favorite, Nick, who indulged Tremargo with the lead until the final sixteenth. Tremargo lasted long enough to beat Rubicon a neek for second Lioney. The last named was off quite badly or he would have won the race. The hurdle handcap was a clinking good race between Forget and Haby Bill. The little mare w favorite at 4 to 5, and topping the last hurdle on even terms with the California gelding she beat him home cleverly. Waltzer was third. Jockey Tod Sloan sailed for England in the

Pennsylvania Mas a Hard Game Against

Washington and Jefferson. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.-Pennsylvania aught a Tartar to-day in the game on Franklin Field against Washington and Jefferson, and met as strong a team as they will meet this season until they face Harvard. The Westerners were a strong, sturdy lot of men, weighing on an average 180 pounds, active as could be; were well coached on the style of play used by Pennsylvania last year, the revolving turtle-back wedge, and they used it with great effect. Pennsylvania in the first half could do nothing with it, and the Westerners gained ground re-with it, and the Westerners gained ground repeatedly.

After Pennsylvania sized up the play they stopped it well. The touchdown scored against them was the result of an offside play on which they got the ball on the fifteen-yard line. Mathews by spiendid line bucking carried it over the line. Minds in his first half made a touchdown on a thirty-yard run from as pretty a criss-cross as could be wished for. In the second half a similar run was made after a straight play through the tackle by Morrice, and toward the close of the balf Minds carried the ball over after repeated short line plunges. It was a pretty game, well played, and reflected great credit on the Pennsylvania team. Washington and Jefferson is easily as strong as Lafayette, Brown, or the Indians. HARTFORD, Sept. 29.—Yale defeated Trinity at football this afternoon by the score of 10 to 0. Yale had much the heavier team, and used her best men, with the result that Trinity was forced to act on the defensive. Capt. Woodle secured the ball when the game was started on Henjamin's kick-off and ran 15 yards, but fumbled the ball when tackled. In three and a half minutes of playing time Benjamin scored a touchdown and kicked a goal. When time was called the ball was on Trinity's 10-yard line. The local men were a bit rattled by Woolle's fumble, but picked up, and in the second half Ellis made a run of 8 yards before being downed. A feature of the game was the amount of good kicking. The line-up: VALE, 10; TRINITY, 0. The line-up:

AMBERST, Sept. 29.—The Amberst and Massachusetts Agricultural College teams met on Pratt Field this afternoon in a practice game. The first touchdown was made by M. A. C. getting the ball on a familie. Amberst's game were made by sharp work around the ends. The score: Amberst, 20; M. A. C., 4. Brick Work on the Gridiron at Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 29.-About seventy candidates for the Harvard freshman football eleven appeared at the meeting held this evening in the Trophy Room of the Hemenway Gymnasium, Capt, Cabot, head coach Forbes, and Guy Murchie welcomed the newcomers. The freshmen will go into the field at once. The candidates will be formed into squads, which will probably be coached by members of the upper class clevens.

In the regular football practice this afternoon the variety cleven played a make a series. In the regular football practice this afternoon the 'varsity eleven played a quick, spirited game. The patient work of the coaches is beginning to show itself in many ways. The team seems to be working more and more as a unit, instead of ele en individuals. Hatch did very well at quarter and relieved Cochrane for the greater part of the game. Monroe was put in at full back on the second eleven and did some very good kicking. Glerasch was tried at half back on the 'varsity. He was substitute on the 'varsity eleven two years ago, but did not return to college last year.

The National Association Football League was rerganized last night at the rooms of the internation Athletic Club. The following clubs were represented. Centreville A. C., Bayonne, H. Boyd and C. D. Bauer. Rearney Athletics, Paterson, D. McCause and J. Howser; Scottish American, Newark, J. Stevenson and D. Haskwood: Browley Wanderer, W. Southern and George Mothren.
It was decided to have a league of eight cluba, and the Secretary was instructed to correspond with the True Bluen, Crescents, and Cedars of Paterson and the Arlingtons of Arlington.

Lafayette played its accord name of the assaut or Turaday, defeating Wyoming Seminary it Wilker barre by a score of 20 to 0. New Backswicz, N. J. The Staten Island Cricket Club has decided to put a football team on the field this season. Games will be arranged with some of the well-known teams about New York.

New York.

PRINCETON, Sept. 29.—The Princeton 'varsity and scrub training tables were started to-day. The following men were taken to the 'varsity table in the Osborn clubhouse: Booth, centre: Crowdis, Armstrong, and Edwards, guards: Hillebrand and Holt, takles: Coehran, Craig, and Lathrop, ends: Palmer, Poe, and Baird, quarter 'acks; Ban: and, Keily, and Reiter, half backs, and Wheeler and Ayres, full backs. Thirty-one men were taken to the arrib table. The first injury of the season was suntained the afternoom by Poe, 1900, a promising candidate for quarter back, whose left knee was haddy strained in an attempt to dodge a tackle.

Ifraca, Sept. 49.—The Cornell football team is now

whose left knee was hadly strained in an attempt so dodge a tackle.

If had, Sept. 29.—The Cornell football team is now being rounded up for the game with Syracuse on Sasturday. It is without doubt the best team Cornell has had at this stage of the season in a number of years. The material is excellent, and the graduate conclining system which is being tried for the first time appears to be produced no aplended results. Givens Warner is head coach and its assisted by J. W. Bencham. Coach Warner is experimenting with several sets of backs. To day at Percy Field there were four sets of backs of different weights, but all good and speedy. The set which appears to be able to do the best work is the heaviest of the four. This set of backs will average 180 pounds. Young is at quarter, Schoch at right half, Wilson at left half, and Perkins at full. With the exception of Young all these men weigh over 185 pounds, are light on their feet and are capable of rushing the ball with irrestable force. Excellent material is also available for the line, so that Cornell will have for the first time in three years a fairly heavy team. Cornell's friends will not see a phenomenal team this fall, but a team that will play steady, consistent football, and which at the close of the season will have an excellent record.

The Royal Arcanum bowlers of Brooklyn began play in the second section of their tournament last night. The Gilberts easily vanquished the East New York and De Long Councils. The scores:
